Message from the Presbyter

Dear Friends in Christ,

Children need to be equipped with skills and information to survive on earth. They need to learn language, behavioural patterns, and gain higher or technical skills to do professional jobs like today. Education is then in short, a skill for survival.

Those, who acquire latest knowledge, tend to become more successful than those, who could not cope up with latest technologies. Recently there was a news article which conveyed the message that real success cannot be measured up with the external achievements. For a person to be successful in life, s/he needs to have a mental balance and emotional stability. Without these inner qualities, his/her education cannot add up any value in life.

Therefore the basic quality that a person needs is his/her inner strength. No one shall receive it through formal education. Formal education can only provide degree, which is important for an initial start up and after which no one need it much in the later stages of his/her career. But the inner quality of mental strength people need through out their life.

God is the being, who converses with us inwardly. He converses with our heart and He abides with us providing everything that a person needs in his/her inner being. Jesus said: "My peace I leave with you; I do not give you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid" (John 14:27). Jesus' disciples faced the opposition from the world by the strength that Jesus provided in their inner being. Therefore to face this world one needs to be inwardly strengthened. This inner strength Jesus can provide by His active participation in our life. We need to surrender our life for Jesus to participate with us in our everyday struggle.

I pray that our children along with their formal education, which they are going to start in the month of June afresh, may also receive inner strength for them to be happy and lead a disciplined life for the glory of God. For this our families need to encourage our children to spend time with God irrespective of their busy schedule. God bless our church and family to provide what our children require inwardly.

I appreciate all children, who scored good marks in the previous year. Neither the shortcomings of the previous year nor the challenges of the new academic year may affect you adversely; instead you may be motivated and inspired to cross new heights in your education and also in your relationship with God. May God bless you all.

With love and prayers,
Rev. Varghese Enathickal V.

Our Glorious Hope for the future

Biju George

Last month we saw that the theme of eschatology can be studied under seven clusters. We already discussed four of those themes very briefly. In this article we will take a look at the remaining three themes. After the resurrection of the bodies what next?

(a)        The final Judgment- ultimately everything what we think, say and do matters! : The Bible teaches that there will be a final judgement at the end of history , in which all people will appear before the judgement seat of Christ. This judgement will not only seal our destinies but will also reveal the degree of reward or the degree of punishment which each one shall receive. When is this going to take place? 2 Pet 3:7 implies that a new heaven and new earth will come into existence after the final judgment. In the parable of the tares, Jesus indicates that the final judgment will occur at the end of the age ( Mat 13:40-43). There are other passages like Mat 25: 31-32, 2 Thess 1:7-10, and Rev 20:2 which links the final judgment to the second coming of Christ and the general resurrection. Who will be the judge? The answer is Christ will be the judge. What will be judged? 2 Cor 5:10 is one of the clear passages on the matter. All things that have been done in the present life will be judged – our words thoughts and deeds. Another important question is what will be the standard based on which the judgement will take place? It will be the revealed will of God. But this will not be same for all. People will be judged based on the light they already have and not on the basis of what they do not know.

(b)        Eternal Punishment – what the hell is hell?! : The thought of an eternal punishment is of course very repulsive. We do not wish that any one should have such a horrible destiny. But the doctrine of eternal punishment is taught by the Bible. In the sermon on the Mount we find at least three references to hell( Mat 5:22, 29-30). The word hell is English translation of the Greek word geena( commonly spelt in English as Gehenna). While Hades is a place of punishment in the intermediate state, Gehenna is the place of permanent punishment. Gehenna comes from gee hinnom which means ‘Valley of Hinom’ a valley south of Jerusalem where parents sometimes offered their children as sacrifices to the Ammonite god Molech. This valley was also the place where the refuse from Jerusalem was burned. Hence gee Hinnom represents, judgement, fire, darkness and worms and rightly represents the rich imagery of hell. We will now look at some specific scripture passages where Jesus himself talks about hell:

- Mat 5: 29-30 : assumes that sufferings of hell involves both body and soul. The body is the resurrected body.
- Mat 18:8-9 : Jesus talks about eternal fire implying that the punishment is permanent.
- Mark 9:43 indicates that the fire is unquenchable.
- Mark 9:48 talk about ‘worms does not die and the fire is not quenched’.
- Mat 13: 41-42 : Jesus talking about ‘gnashing of teeth and weeping’
- Mat 25: 30 adds another dimension that hell is a place of ‘outer darkness’

The above imageries are not to be taken literally. For example one may wonder how fire and darkness co-exist and how does worms survive in that fire?! These are images meant to explain the horrible reality known as hell. These imageries collectively renders a very gory picture of existence- there is agony, anguish, eternal separation from God and isolation that is irreversible. The worst is that these are ‘eternal’. Is god sending people to hell or is it that people chooses it? The answer lies in the immense capacity of human beings to exercise their free will either to glorify God or to rebel against God. The way in which we use or misuse our freedom governs our destiny. CS Lewis with his customary wit puts it succinctly : “There are only two kinds of people in the end: those who say to God, "Thy will be done," and those to whom God says, in the end, "Thy will be done." All that are in Hell, choose it. Without that self-choice there could be no Hell. No soul that seriously and constantly desires joy will ever miss it. Those who seek find. Those who knock it is opened.”

What is the significance of the doctrine of eternal punishment and hell? Is it just to send shock waves down our spines? We will speak of hell with great grief, sorrow, reluctance and perhaps tears in our eyes. But speak about it we must. Our mission should spur us into a greater zeal and urgency because hell is a reality as heaven is. The fact that many of our friends are bound to a Christ-less eternity should propel us into action. Unless they hear the gospel how can they be saved? Unless someone preaches it how can they hear the gospel? ( Rom 10: 14). Hell is not a subject to be avoided; it is a place to be avoided! To quote CS Lewis again : “In the long run the answer to all those who object to the doctrine of hell is itself a question: “What are you asking God to do?” To wipe out their past sins and, at all costs, to give them a fresh start, smoothing every difficulty and offering every miraculous help? But He has done so, on Calvary. To forgive them? They will not be forgiven. To leave them alone? Alas, I am afraid that is what He does.”

(c) New Heaven and New Earth – our glorious hope! We are the last theme in our eschatological studies. The climax of the Bible is the climax of a new heaven and new earth in contrast to the old heavens and earth of Genesis 1:1. The new heaven and new earth is linked with the final state of those who have believed in Christ. We should not have a mystified view of heaven as some ethereal place of existence. In contrast, the Biblical picture of heaven is a down-to-earth(!) place which it calls the ‘New heaven and New Earth’. On that new earth as a redeemed company of believers we hope to spend our eternity in our resurrected bodies enjoying its beauties, exploring its resources and using its treasures for the glory of God. The most breathtaking description of the new earth is found in Revelation 21:1-4. There will be no tears on the new earth. Crying and pain belongs to the present age. On that new earth we shall enjoy everlasting and unbroken fellowship with God and the people of God including our loved ones we have lost for a while. The radiant splendour that is brought out in Chapter 21 of the book of Revelation stirs our imagination. Existence in the new earth will be marked by perfect knowledge of God, perfect enjoyment of God and perfect service of God.

The doctrine of the new heaven and new earth should give us hope, courage and optimism in the context of hopelessness and despair that we see in our world today. It is true that evil is rampant in the world today, but Christ has won the ultimate victory. Ecologists often picture the future of earth in gloomy terms, but it is encouraging as believing Christians to look forward to a completely redeemed earth a sort of ‘glorified space-time’ where the nature will regain its lost harmony and equilibrium. In-fact we as Christians will work towards redeeming the world in all possible ways not in despair but with an immense sense of hope. As we live on this earth we are preparing for the glorious life to come. Since we believe in Christ, physical death is only an event in our life! At the beginning of history God created the heavens and earth. At the climax of history he recreates a new heaven and the new earth. The new seemingly surpasses the splendour of the old. Through our service for the kingdom building materials for the new earth are being gathered. Bibles are getting translated, people groups are knowing Christ as their saviour and Lord, individual lives are getting touched and transformed by the gospel, cultures are getting renewed. Very significant are verses 24 and 26 of Chapter 21 of Revelation which tells us that the kings of the earth shall bring their glory into it... they shall bring into it the glory and honour of the nations”. It has been suggested by many that whatever of value that we have done in this world particularly to liberate human existence will not be lost. These will be recaptured in the new heaven and the new earth. At the centre of history is a lamb that was slain from the foundation of the world. A day is not far when we all will cast our crowns before him ‘lost in wonder, love and praise’.

There is only one life and it will soon be past. What is done for Christ will last! We have a hope and a future and God is calling each one of us from hopeless-end to endless hope!
